The activities in the course are used with children from 6 to 19 years. Research and supervision reports indicate that ET provides substantial long-term benefits such as an increase in resilience, self-motivation, increased attention span, less aggressive behaviour and a stronger sense of self.

This style of Expressive Therapies integrates many person-centred, psychodynamic, attachment, emotion and somatic-focused activities, and is based on the framework and methods of Jungian, Gestalt, Emotion-focused and Transpersonal Therapy, as well as the long history of creative arts therapies.

The course consists of 15 training days, spread over 5 workshops of 3 days each - a total of 105 hrs. Students can begin at workshops 1, 2 or 3. There are two short written assignments. An extensive training manual will be provided at each workshop, as well as a digital Book of Readings. It is strongly recommended that students keep an A3 size Process Journal that records all activities, artworks, outcomes, and symbol work photographs.

Course requirements

These include the completion of two short written assignments and attendance at all training days. It is a principle of Expressive Therapies that therapists personally experience the activities they will use with clients so as to be able to present them safely and confidently. Be prepared for a rich time of professional and personal development.

ET is an activity-based, invitational, self-discovery approach, encouraging insights and change from within the client. The methods and attitudes are client-centred; recognition and value are given to the significance of the client's personal interpretations and meanings.

The activities have been developed from an expanded understanding of therapeutic approaches, with a rapidly evolving research base.

Learning Outcomes

On completion of this course, students will be able to:

Understand the principles of emotional resolution in counselling

Describe basic theory of emotion-focused processes

Utilise a range of appropriate expressive counselling techniques

Demonstrate a client-focused approach to using ET

Assess the suitability of ET strategies for individuals

Understand and demonstrate how to plan an ET counselling session

COMMENTS ON THE COURSE

The course was extremely helpful – it has been for me the most fulfilling training I have done.

– Cobi van der Es, Gympie Women's Health Service, GYMPIE.

The course has been life-changing – both professionally and personally. A highlight of the course was discovering creative and innovative ways of working. I am more tuned in to my intuitiveness, and holding the space, without having to intervene – words are not always necessary!

- Sue Boggan – family counsellor, VICTORIA.

The course was truly life changing for me, both personally and professionally. I have a greater understanding of emotions, identity, the Self and how deep healing can occur within ourselves and children.

– Jodie Cicaji, psychologist MELBOURNE

My confidence has grown. I am happy now to try new activities and to make changes to suit the needs of children. ET is infectious, and I want to know so much more. This feels the right thing to be doing. It marries with Art Therapy well. - Liz Kinnane – Art Therapist / Counsellor, MELBOURNE

A highlight was the various activities which are extremely creative and therapeutic in nature and very apt for children and youths. Highly valuable for professional - and very much in personal - development.

- Nooraini Mohamed Razak, counsellor, SINGAPORE

The course very much emphasised self-experiencing. It provides sufficient practices that actually prepares participants to apply in real cases with much confidence. I truly enjoyed the course, the things we did and the interpersonal warmth of the trainers.

- Chia Wee Pheng, SINGAPORE
